START HERE: Identify Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs)

Is there an up-to-date curriculum map that aligns program and course-level SLOs?

- Yes: Through consultation with faculty, identify SLOs with a need for improvement
- No: For each learning activity, identify measures of student learning (i.e., exam items, rubric items, internship evaluation, self-assessment, etc.)

Provide learning activities

- Assess student learning using the identified measures
- Analyze and aggregate data; Report results annually
- Share results with faculty

Every 3 years, identify interpretation and trends/strategies for improvement
